

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TODAY AT SENATOR REED'S HOME TOWN

Crowds That Hear Him Like Such Statements as "Contemptible Quitters"

Treaty Rejection He Says Will Make America a Militarized Power

HUGH BAILLIE,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

On Board President's Special Train Approaching Kansas City, Sept. 6.—Constituents of Senator Reed, one of the principal opponents of the league today were to hear President Wilson's arguments for ratification of the treaty. Kansas City is Reed's home town.

The president is evidently making an effort to humanize and visualize the treaty and convince the people that the nation is facing one of the most momentous alternatives of its history; that if the verdict is against the treaty the result will be felt in homes and pocket books. Rejection, he says, will make America a militarized power with disappointed unfriendly nations in the world and eventual wars.

At St. Louis the president said he wants to get acquainted with the people and seeks an opportunity to get close to folks.

When the president boarded the train at St. Louis he sat on the back platform while crowds massed against the fence near the tracks and cheered. Many asked for a speech but Wilson smiled and answered "Oh, no." He nodded, grinned and waved, but refused to talk. Mrs. Wilson received many flowers.

The crowds liked the statements such as "contemptible quitters" in criticism of those who are opposing the treaty. Shouts of "Swat 'em" and similar cries followed.

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—In the real "enemy territory," the home of Senator Reed, one of the most bitter opponents, President Wilson today received a tremendous ovation when he stepped on the platform.

The uproar rivaled that of St. Louis. Wilson took his seat immediately and paid hardly any attention, merely smiling at one particular loud outburst. Practically every one in the crowd carried small flags and flourishing them with every outburst, made a vivid spectacle. About twenty thousand were present.

Treaty opponents viewed the talk with "jaundiced" eyes, who are against it because they have some "private political purpose" and will at last be gibbeted and they will regret that gibe, the president said.

He restated that it was a case of "put up or shut up," that the opposers would have to produce something better than the league covenant or step aside. "Merely negation without offering anything constructive to replace the treaty is bolshevism," he asserted.

He said he respected the man who honestly seeks to oppose the treaty but denounce those who oppose for political reasons.

"The Philippine Islands would get independence under the league. The league," he declared, "would simplify the Philippine problem."

There was great applause when Wilson proclaimed that through the treaty the "American spirit made conquest of the world. The war was won by the American spirit," he cried. There was wild shouts from the crowd.

"If the treaty is beaten those responsible will have a life-long reckoning with the fighting forces of the United States," he said. The cause of this fight is greater than the senate or house and he intends "in office and out to fight for it as long as I live."

The president went into detail explanations of the league of nations power to prevent war, dwelling on the boycott feature by which offending nations might be isolated.

He was heard for the most part in an intense silence with occasional periods of hand clapping.

One of the purposes of the treaty was to destroy autocracy authorized everywhere in the world.

Wilson cited Russia as an example of minority rule and denounced the group of men "more cruel than the czar himself, who controls that country."

He declared himself opposed to minority rule in the United States or anywhere else. Groups of selfish men must not pilot the future of America. The president declared that if there was any monopoly of power in America he would be with the people to break it up. He pictured the horrors of the Turkish crimes in Armenia and regretted the delay in getting the treaty ratified while crimes continued.

In opening the president said: "It is very inspiring to me to stand in the presence of a company of my fellow citizens and have the privilege of performing the duty that I have come to perform. That duty is to report to my fellow citizens concerning the work of the peace conference which I have today. It seems more necessary to report it today because so many people do not understand what it is."

"Principles have been written into the treaty which were never written into any great international constitution before, and they have their national birth and origin in this dear country to which we have devoted our life and service, and if you will bear with me I will remind you of some things we have long tried and are accepted in this treaty."

"Substitutes for brutality in the process of war is contained in the covenant of the league of nations. I am anxious that my fellow citizens should realize that that is the chief topic of the league. The purpose of the documents are explained in the provision by which all members agree that they will not have cause for war. Two things were submitted, the matter of controversies to arbitration in which case they agree to abide by the verdict or submit to discussion. The council will have six months for discussion, and they will not go to war for three months after, so that you have with this arbitration nine months discussion, and I want to remind you that is the same principle of thirty treaties entered into by the United States and some other thirty sovereign treaties."

Goes to Des Moines

The president's special train left on the stroke of twelve for Des Moines, Iowa, where he speaks tonight. So far the official program has been adhered to.

COAL DOCK MEN STAY ON STRIKE

Owners Propose Reinstatement at Old Scale, Arbitration by Committee Later

"Continue the strike," was the unanimous decision of dock workers at a meeting of local union No. 254 of the Electrical Workers union held last night at Woodman hall. Twenty-first avenue West. This decision was reached after the union men, representing Duluth and Superior workers, had voted to turn down the coal operators proposal that the dockmen return to work at the same scale of wages which prevailed before the strike, and that they should be allowed to form committees of workmen on the docks to arbitrate questions that might arise. Reports last night that steam shovel operators now employed on the docks would walk out today in sympathy with the strikers could not be verified.

"The proposition presented to the dockmen's committee by the coal operators at Thursday's meeting was that we should return to work at the scale of wages which was in effect before the strike," said William Coley, president of the local. "This was the proposition voted upon tonight and it was unanimously turned down. The union then voted to remain on strike until the coal operators make an offer that we can consider."

Senate Passes Prohibition Bill

Senate Made Only One Minor Change From Bill as Passed by House

Washington, Sept. 6.—(United Press)—The prohibition enforcement bill passed by the senate yesterday was headed for the conference committee which will compose the difference between the house and senate, and send the measure to President Wilson for his signature. Since the senate in adopting the measure made only one minor amendment to the house bill, a speedy agreement of the measure, which covers wartime and constitutional prohibition, is looked for. This means that unless the bill is vetoed by the president 275 beer and other light beverages now on sale will be under a ban and those who sell them will face a fine and jail sentence. The most important of the amendments was one making the Panama canal zone dry.

Allies War Expenses

(By United Press)
Paris, September 5.—Financial minister Klotz announced that the war expenses of the Allies had been estimated at $200,000,000,000, according to Klotz. Germany will pay France $18,500,000 within the next thirty six years.

Miners Strike Threatened

19,000 Will Strike Monday Unless Employers Agree to a Conference

Seranton, Pa., Sept. 5.—(United Press)—19,000 mine workers employed in the twenty collieries of the Forest City and Plymouth will strike Monday morning by order of the general committee of employees unless the general manager agrees to meet a committee of employees before that time. The decision was announced today. In a decision to call a general strike of all mine workers of the company, the committee is backing up four thousand employees of other collieries who now are striking.

Sheriff and Deputies to Stop Marching Miners

(By United Press)

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 6.—The Logan county sheriff and armed deputies left Logan today for head of John's Creek in an effort to halt an army of miners marching toward Guaynor coal fields. All officers were heavily armed. The number of miners is estimated at from 500 to 3,000.

President Wilson Replies to Gompers

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor today received a reply from President Wilson in answer to the telegram asking that the president use his effort to arrange an immediate conference between the steel workers and Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation. Gompers declined to disclose the answer since the president had not done so. It is understood the telegram makes known the course the president will pursue and counsels against hasty action.

Stubborn Fire Reported Near Ely

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—Stubborn fires in the vicinity of Snowball lake, near Ely, has caused the state forester much trouble. Cox, the state forester, said today. This fire has been burning several days and although he had forty men fighting it, it had not been subdued. He does not anticipate any danger of it spreading at this time. This is the only fire reported this week.

Mr. Appleton has sailed for England to further the plan. Rear Admiral Sims is chairman of the honorary committee.

New Haven R. R. Looted of Millions

By a Foreman Selling High Grade Steel Rails as Junk

(By United Press)

Boston, Sept. 6.—A representative of one of the largest junk dealers in the country and a railway foreman are under arrest, following an investigation extending a year, which the department of justice believe reveals a system by which the New Haven railway has been looted of millions of dollars worth of steel rails. Wm. Natt is the representative of the junk dealer, and John Birmingham the general foreman of the railroad reclamation yards. It is alleged that the high grade steel was shipped to plants all over the country in guise of junk. The alleged thefts have gone on for several years.

Committee Wants to Hear More Witnesses

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Numbers of the senate agricultural committee indicated today they will hear witnesses in favor of the Kenyon and Kendrick bills before making up their minds. Senator Gronna said that farmers and many small cattle men are unable to come now and a recess of thirty days ought to be taken.

Returning Commander in Chief and Leader of First Division Who Will Parade Down Fifth Avenue With Him

Arrangements have been made for the parade in New York City of the First Division, headed by General Pershing, and the reception of the Wednesday. This is one of the latest photographs of General Pershing. The picture of Major-General Edward F. McGlachlin, Jr., who with former commanders of the First Division and other prominent army officers will parade down Fifth avenue with General Pershing, was taken when he returned recently to this country.

NEW YORK PUTS 'PEP' IN WELCOME TO GEN. PERSHING

Aldermen Appropriate $100,000—Declare Wednesday Holiday for Employees

New York, Sept. 5.—Funds were provided by the board of aldermen today to insure a reception worthy of the city for General Pershing and the famous First division. The last of the troops came home on transports which arrived today and the commander-in-chief will return on the Leviathan, due early Monday morning.

Not only did the aldermen appropriate $100,000 to pay the welcoming expenses, but they declared next Wednesday, when the division will parade with Pershing as a holiday in all city departments. The funds set aside today will make a total of $550,000 expended by New York in the entertainment of home coming soldiers.

It has been definitely decided that General Pershing will lead the parade on his charger, "Kidron," which he rode in the Paris and London reviews. Immediately behind him will ride his personal colorbearer, carrying the general's four-starred flag on a red field.

Next in line will come the general's staff, followed by the composite regiment which has formed his guard of honor in the European victory parade. Major General McGlachlin will lead the First division. The procession is expected to take five or six hours to pass a given point.

Austrian Cabinet Will Recommend Acceptance of Treaty

(By United Press)

Vienna, Sept. 6.—The Austrian cabinet decided today according to the report of Chancellor Renner to recommend that the national assembly accept the peace treaty which was presented by the allies this week.

SOCIALISTS TO SEEK CONTROL OF UNIONS

Party Votes to Carry on Propaganda Work Among Organized Labor Bodies

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Members of the national socialist party voted today to continue the fight in the ranks of organized labor with the object of obtaining ultimate control of trades union bodies.

"The plan is to form groups of socialists in every craft and shop local which will be used for propaganda work to convert the mass of the trades unions. Speakers cited numerous instances where the injection of socialism into trades unions resulted in the disruption of the labor organizations."

The convention abandoned the principles of the referendum to the extent of amending the party constitution to provide for the election of the national executive committee by the annual national convention of the party instead of by vote of the membership. The committee was reduced from 15 to 7.

The communist labor party of America adopted a resolution calling on all wage earners to refuse to fight in the event this country goes to war with Mexico.

WAVE OF CRIME IS CAUSED BY LIVING COST, SAY POLICE

Milwaukee, Sept. 5.—The police today were considering ways and means of contending with an apparent crime wave. Two safe burglaries and a jewelry store robbery, all in one night, convinced the police that outside talent is operating with home talent in the large number of store and office and home burglaries during the last few months. The police blame the high cost of living for much of the crime.

Senatorial Opponents Planning to Tour Territory Covered by President

BY L. C. MARTIN,
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, Sept. 6.—With senatorial opponents of the treaty and league covenant planning a tour of the grounds now being covered by President Wilson, leaders of various senatorial factions today were counting noses in an effort to determine voting strength.

Leading democrats in the senate today declared that twenty of the democrats will vote for reservations for the treaty, and twenty-seven will vote for unqualified ratification. This prediction is made on the presumption that there will be no more changes of position. Meanwhile "mild reservationists" in the Lodge group were trying to compromise their difference of the words of the reservations on Article 10 of the league covenant, which is now the chief issue of those favoring reservations. Senator Lodge's proposed adoption by the foreign relations committee is for reservations which assume that the United States will stay out of foreign wars of territorial invasion.

McCumber's plan prefers the views of "mild reservationists" and assumes that the United States will be willing to get into such wars if a plain case of unlawful aggression can be made out.

Both propositions leave the United States free to decide through congress when it will go and to what extent.

Industrial Relations Under Discussion

(By United Press)

New York, Sept. 6.—Capital and labor, represented by some of the foremost leaders, met today to discuss community industrial relations at the home of Mrs. Henry P. Davison at Long Island. The conference was called under the council of national defense. Delegates from 82 community councils and about three hundred persons representing major classes were expected to attend.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR ST. PAUL SALOON KEEPERS

St. Paul, Sept. 5.—Federal warrants for the arrest of about fifty St. Paul saloon keepers, charged with violating the prohibition act, were issued today. It was reported that the warrants were drawn up after an investigation of local saloon activities, which has been in progress for several weeks.

On Monday morning next a class for deaf children will be started in the Whittier school in charge of Miss Alice M. Head, graduate of the Milwaukee training school for teachers of deaf children.

This class will be started under the provisions of the Minnesota statute giving state aid for the maintenance of such schools under the provision that a minimum number of deaf children be enrolled.

Deaf children may enter at any time as the work is largely individual work and the state aid, being dependent on the number of days actual attendance by each pupil. Parents of such children are expected to have them in school every day in order to make possible the maintenance expenses of the school.

The registration so far includes three children from Brainerd, one from Pequot, one from Ft. Ripley and one from Riverton.

COAST OVER COBBLE STONES

Sport in Madeira Has Many Advantages Over That to Which Northerners Are Accustomed.

Cobble stones may not appeal to the uninitiated as ideal for coasting purposes, but they admirably serve the purpose. It all depends on how steep is the hill the cobbles pave. In other words, it isn't the material that makes the "slide," but the pitch of the slope. Those of us who are accustomed to sliding down snow-clad hills, or tiny ascents made slippery by ice know little of the thrill a slide may possess. For some measure of the delight in the sport is frequently minimized by the frigid air that rushes past our tingling ears and some measure of the enjoyment is entirely lost by the chills that grip our shivering bodies.

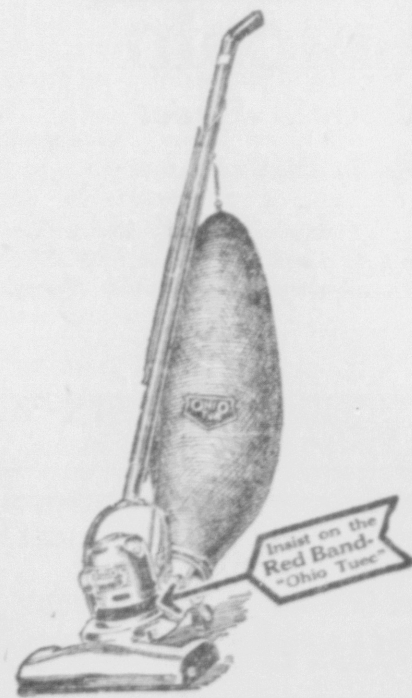

Imagine—if you can—the thrill of coasting down a hill so steep that your "sled" flies over the cobbles much as is would speed over crusted snow or an ice glare. Instead of icy air that almost chills you to the marrow at the thought, picture yourself in springtime garments and fanned by summer breezes.

If you can imagine such a picture you will have enjoyed at least some part of the sport of coasting in an island where there is no snow or ice. Down the cobble-paved road the "sled" flies. For ten minutes you flash along in breath-taking rush, then you begin to grow accustomed to the speed and the novelty of the sport and you take time to look about you. But—like most other enjoyments—just as you're beginning really to enjoy it to the utmost your coasting ends.

Where is this extraordinary slide? On the island of Madeira, which belongs to Portugal, and lies in the Atlantic ocean, off the coast of Morocco.

PURPLE AND GOLD

Adorned Armies Which Persian Kings Led to War.

Spectacular Indeed Must Have Been the March of Mighty Hosts Before the Days of Business-like Fighting.

Warfare was a spectacular, as well as a bloody enterprise, in the days of antiquity. Plain khaki and simple businesslike accoutrements would never have suited the ancient Persian soldiers.

Silver altars, surrounded by priests, chanting sacred songs, were first in line of march. They were followed by 255 youths dressed in purple garments. A chariot dedicated to the sun was drawn by snow-white horses, led by grooms wearing white garments and carrying golden wands.

Ten chariots embossed with gold and silver preceded the cavalry of 12 nations, dressed in their various costumes and carrying their peculiar arms.

Then came the Persian immortals, 10,000 in number, wearing golden chains and robes embroidered with gold and glittering with precious stones. Following at a short distance came 15,000 nobles, relatives of the king, dressed in garments wonderfully wrought.

A company of spearmen preceded the king. He rode in an imposing chariot, and wore robes of surpassing magnificence, and a costly miter on his head. By his side walked 200 of his most noble kinsmen. Ten thousand warriors, bearing spears with shafts of silver tipped by heads of gold, followed the royal chariot of Xerxes. The king's horses, 40 in number, with 30,000 footmen, ended the procession.

At some distance followed the mother and wife of the king in chariots, accompanied by their ladies on horseback. Fifteen cars carried the king's children, their tutors and nurses, and 600 camels, guarded by archers, bore the royal treasury. The friends and relatives of the ladies followed with the cooks and servants. Light-armed troops brought up the rear.

When a king in those days looked upon his troops and saw their strength and splendor, it is no wonder he felt proud and wished to lead them to battle. Such an army was not meant to stay at home, where only their countrymen could see them. Other nations would know how powerful a king he was. So he and his followers marched away, and wars for conquest began.

Peoples were forced to give themselves up to a life of war, either for conquest or defense, and the great highways, which peace would have dedicated to commerce and prosperity, became military roads over which war took its cruel way.

Details Carried to Absurdity.

Trivial details not infrequently become the pivot of momentous decisions, in which cases an element of absurdity is supplied by the breadth of the contrast. A case in point arises in the discussion among English literateurs concerning Shakespeare's alleged "hand" in the play of "Sir Thomas More," in which one expert occupies almost a column of small type in the literary supplement of the Times of London in describing the construction of the letter B as found in one of Shakespeare's autographic documents. The imposing array of warlike and nautical terms in the modest letter, such as keel, baseline, ram, forelimb and boundary line, may astonish many who have been accustomed to form it with comparative ease, while the division of the letter into sections and subsections by this savant for purposes of discussion endows the old scrivener's art with unexpected dignity.

Satisfaction in Doing Right.

Imagination is the father and mother of trouble when we let it run loose in a time of stress. But in the end the will and the heart are what determine our fate. After all, when we do right we have some satisfaction even if we suffer. But if we do nothing but drift along we have not even the satisfaction of knowing we deserve to come out right.

Honesty First Requisite.

It would be an unspeakable advantage, both to the public and private; if then would consider that great truth, that no man is wise or safe but he that is honest.—Sir Walter Raleigh.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. WOMEN DEMAND WARS SHALL END

Peace League Means More to Them Than It Can Mean to Men.

DR. SHAW'S STIRRING PLEA.

(By the Late Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.)

Seven million one hundred thousand men who had laid down their lives in the great war. Think of it! Seven million, one hundred thousand young men had died on the field of battle!

What does that mean to the women of the world? It means that seven million one hundred thousand women walked day by day with their faces toward an open grave that they might give life to a son. It means that seven million one hundred thousand little children lay in the arms of a mother whose love had made them face even the terrors of death that they might become the mothers of men.

It means that year after year these women had put up their lives into the lives of their sons until they had reared them to be men. For what? In the hope that these sons of theirs could give to the world the things for which women dream, the things for which women hope and pray and long. These were the things that the women had in their hearts when they gave birth to their sons.

But who can estimate the value of seven million one hundred thousand dead sons of the women of the world? Who can estimate the price which the women have paid for this war; what it has cost them, not only in the death of their sons, because that is a phase of our war to which we look.

The Courage of Women.

We hear our orators tell us of the courage of our men. How they went across the sea. Very few of them remember to tell us of the courage of our women, who also went across the sea; of the women who died nursing the sick and wounded; the women who died in the hospitals, where the terrible bombs came and drove them almost to madness. They tell us nothing of the forty thousand English women who went to work back of the trenches in France.

They tell us nothing of the thousands upon thousands upon thousands of women who not only toiled and worked and slaved in order that the war might be successful, but we do not hear of the thousands of women, not alone in Armenia, not alone in Montenegro, not alone in Serbia, but in Flanders, in Belgium, in Rumania, in Russia—the thousands of women who lie in graves today, murdered, so horribly murdered that men dare not speak of it.

And yet we women are asked what we know about the League of Nations; asked what we can understand about a League of Nations. Oh men! the horrible deaths; the horrible lives of thousands upon thousands of women today in all these nations, who must live, and who must look in the faces of children unwelcomed, undesired—of little children—and know that these are the result of war.

And then ask women why they should be interested in a league of peace?

Women Suffer Most From War.

If there is any body of citizens in the world who ought to be interested in a league to ultimately bring to the world peace it is the mothers of men and the women who suffered as only women can suffer in the war and in devastated countries.

And we call upon them, we women of the world call upon the men who have been fighting all these battles of the years, the men who have led armies, and led armies close to their deaths.

We are now calling upon the met of the world to in some way or another find a passage out of the sea of death. We are asking them to form a league which will bring hope to the women of the future. If women are to bear sons only that they may die if women may not have hope and aspirations for their children if women may not dream the dreams that have in them the hope of the highest civilizations, the highest moral and spiritual life of the people—if women may not have these in their hearts as the mothers of men, then women will cease to desire to be the mothers of men. And why should they not? Why should they not?

How a Hero Died.

A dramatic incident in which a heroic young officer faced death in a soldierly manner is the climax of a true story that recently appeared in Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American expeditionary forces.

He was Francis M. Leahy of Lawrence, Massachusetts, and he had served in the ranks before he won his commission. He used to tell of the days when he was orderly to Captain Pershing in the Philippines. One day while he was resting with his men by the wayside a German shell came whizzing out of space just as the order arrived that the regiment fall in and move on.

The shell plowed up the earth and stretched on the ground several men who were just getting to their feet. It hit the tree against which Captain Leahy was leaning and snapped it off like a stalk of asparagus. A piece of shell struck him in the back and tore its way through his chest.

"Good-by, boys!" he said, and his head sagged forward.

Then it was as if, somewhere in the universe, an invisible commander had called, "Attention!" Captain Leahy raised his head. With clearing voice he called the name of the officer next in command.

"Lieutenant Hansen," he said, "the command is 'Forward!' See the boys through!"

Then he died.

Recipient of Old Honor.

Prince Ferdinand Radziwili, who recently presided at the opening of the new Polish parliament, is a distant relative of the Hohenzollerns and one of the pillars of the old Polish nobility. The honor accorded Prince Radziwili was declared to be absolutely without political significance, but entirely a matter of custom. The prince came into the temporary presidency by reason of seniority only. He is eighty-five years old and is the oldest member on the floor of parliament. By virtue of a similar custom the youngest two members of the house, a socialist and a Catholic priest, neither of them more than twenty-five years old, acted as vice presidents and sat to left and right of the old nobleman all through the first session, assisting him in the carrying on of his duties.

Ships and Their Names.

Peace has brought with it the incidental discussion in a section of the English press of the meaning of and reason for the names of certain ships in the British navy. Truly my lords of the admiralty, acting as sponsors, have gone to some strange sources for the nomenclature. Not merely countries and cities have been drawn upon, but many of the creatures figuring in a menagerie have been freely utilized. Then there are the vessels named after the public schools and institutions of England, such as Uppingham, Tonbridge, Westminster, Rugby, Cheltenham, Epsom and so on. If even should feel jealous over the matter of its neglect it can take a kind of reflected comfort in the fact that there is a destroyer called Windsor.

Lacemaking in China.

Foreign missionaries in Chefoo, Shanghai, Foochow, Amoy and Swatow have introduced lacemaking among the Chinese women, and considerable lace has been exported from time to time. Silk, linen and cotton thread is used in Chefoo, and linen and cotton in the other places. The lace is made more cheaply than is possible elsewhere because of the low wages paid in China, but a lack of enterprise in changing patterns to meet changing tastes and fashions abroad prevents the industry from assuming larger proportions.

Pretty Decoration for Holding Flowers or Fern May Be Put Together at Small Cost.

Suggestions for filling up even the corner of a room in these days of high prices will be useful to many of our readers who may be furnishing, and the pretty corner decoration of which we give a sketch can be made at a very small cost.

It is composed of eight pieces of bamboo arranged in the manner shown, and hung across the corner of the room by means of two picture rings screwed into the bamboo at the points indicated by the crosses in the sketch. Suspended from the top bar in the center is a small pot containing a fern; but if preferred, of course flowers could take the place of the fern.

The bamboo should be fastened together with thin, sharp nails, and, where necessary, the ends of the bamboo should be plugged with little pieces of wood. The horizontal pieces, too, must be cut to fit against the sides of the upright pieces. Into the ends of the upright pieces small brass balls are screwed, and suitable articles for this purpose can be obtained from any hardware store at a small cost.

The pieces of bamboo that are fastened across the corners of the frame should be about half the thickness of the other canes. The ends of these canes must be cut to fit into their places, but can be fastened in place without plugging them. The ends of all the other pieces must be plugged with wood.

No Jugo-Slav Race.

There is in strictness no such thing as a Jugo-Slav. There are Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, all of whom speak the same language, with variations, and are now of the same nationality. There is a religious question among Jugo-Slavs, which has, on occasion, been stressed by the intriguing imperialist politicians on the borders who have been anxious to prevent national unity, the Serbs being of the Greek, or Orthodox church, and the Croats and Slovenes of the Roman church. There are no more than 12,000,000 of them altogether, but the territory of the new nation is larger than that of Great Britain.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1919

The G. A. R. --
Then and Now

(By United Press)
 Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Just thirty-one years ago today all Columbus was keyed up to the highest pitch of expectancy and preparation. Decorators were swarming the city with flags and bunting. Gas-lighted arches were being erected in the downtown sections. Mammoth cities of tents were springing up and band stands and reviewing stands were being built along High street.

Columbus was preparing to welcome 100,000 veterans of the civil war to the twenty-second national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Then the blue-coated hordes swept into Columbus from every section of the country.

On Tuesday, September 11, 1888, was held the greatest parade in the history of the city. Leading the columns of sturdy civil war warriors were General William Tecumseh Sherman and ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes.

The soldiers marched with firm step and clear eye. The day was theirs. A half hundred bands and drum corps resounded martial music while the tread of thousands of feet beat in cadence on the cobblestones of High street. The procession was miles in length and took hours and hours to pass the reviewing stand in East Broad street.

Commander-in-Chief Gen. General Sherman and ex-president Hayes and official staff left the column at the reviewing stand while the long, steadily marching columns continued on.

The fifty-third national G. A. R. encampment next week will probably be the last ever held by the veterans of years gone by.

Instead of mammoth camps, necessary years ago to accommodate the thousands of soldiers, Columbus today was throwing open its homes to the civil war veterans who began pouring into the city on every train.

The camps are not needed. There were 100,000 veterans in the city then. Now there will be not more than a tenth of that number. Instead of the numerous band stands along High street, first aid stations have been erected to care for the aged veterans who may succumb to the strenuous activities of the parade to be held next Wednesday.

In 1888, the march was nearly three miles in length. Next week's line of march will cover only a very short distance, probably less than a mile. There will be thousands who will not march with their comrades. Special reviewing stands have been erected for them.

Time has marched on in thirty-one years, and many thousands of soldiers have dropped from the ranks.

For the first time in the history of

G. A. R. encampments, other military organizations will take part. Thousands of Spanish War and World War veterans will march with the civil war heroes. The younger blood of America will take over the more strenuous duties of the civil warriors with a zeal born of victory.

Former Governor James A. Campbell, director general of the encampment, has been assured that nearly every post of the American Legion in Ohio will take part in the parade.

La Fayette Day
Widely Observed

(By United Press)
 New York, Sept. 6.—Major General Leonard Wood was scheduled to be the principal speaker at the formal ceremony in commemoration of La Fayette's 162d anniversary, held at City Hall here today.

The celebration, according to the La Fayette Day national committee, was being widely observed throughout the country, the mayors of many cities having promised to cooperate in making the commemoration exercises great successes.

Among the cities where elaborate plans for the day had been made were San Francisco; Lynn, Mass.; Newark, N. J.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Louisville, Ky.; Pueblo, Colo.; Yonkers, N. Y.; and Passaic, N. J.

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco heads the committee in that city and recently was decorated by the French government with the Legion of Honor in recognition of the fine record made by San Francisco during the war.

PACKER IS DENIED STAY

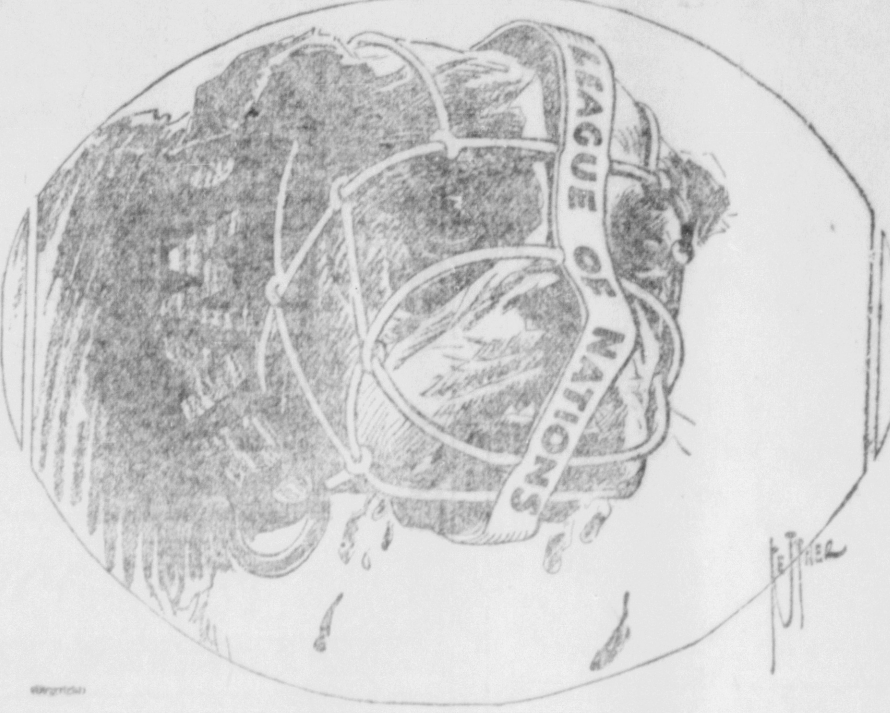

Judge Holds Attorney Right in Seizing Storage Park

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Justice William R. Day of the United States supreme court here yesterday denied a writ asking for a stay of execution in the case of the state of Ohio against the Columbus Packing company, in which seventy-five tons of pork, said to have been held in violation of the law, was seized by the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county. It is said the pork will be placed on the market and sold at once.

He Has Had His Day

LEAGUE FULFILLS
AMERICAN IDEAL

Herbert Hoover Says Democracies Replaced Autocracies at Our Bidding.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION CHIEF.

Urges Ratification on Ground That Peace Treaty Will Collapse Without League of Nations.

Herbert Hoover is so deeply concerned over the opposition to the League of Nations in the United States that he has let himself be interviewed at length on the League situation. In a talk with the New York Times correspondent in Paris, the Food Administration Chief asserts that having caused the League idea to prevail American cannot abandon it. We cannot withdraw, he says, and leave Europe to chaos. To abandon the League Covenant now means that the treaty itself will collapse.

Mr. Hoover's wide acquaintance with conditions both here and abroad, his reputation as an administrator, a man of great affairs who deals with facts, not theories, make his statement one of the most important contributions to the recent League discussions.

"There are one or two points in connection with the present treaty," said Mr. Hoover, "that need careful consideration by the American public. We need to digest the fact that we have for a century and a half been advocating democracy not only as a remedy for the internal ills of all societies, but also as the only real safeguard against war. We have believed and proclaimed, in season and out, that a world in which there was a free expression and enforcement of the will of the majority was the real basis of government, was essential for the advancement of civilization, and that we have proved its enormous human benefits in our country."

American Ideas Have Prevailed.

"We went into the war to destroy autocracy as a menace to our own and all other democracies. If we had not come into the war every inch of European soil today would be under autocratic government. We have imposed our will on the world. Out of this victory has come the destruction of the four great autocracies in Germany, Russia, Turkey and Austria and the little autocracy in Greece. New democracies have sprung into being in Poland, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Greater Serbia, Greece, Siberia, and even Germany and Austria have established democratic governments. Beyond these a host of small republics, such as Armenia, Georgia, Azerbaijan and others, have sprung up, and again as a result of this great world movement the constitutions of Spain, Rumania, and even England, have made a final ascent to complete franchise and democracy, although they still maintain a symbol of royalty."

"We have been the living spring for this last century and half from which these ideas have sprung, and we have triumphed. The world today, except for a comparatively few reactionary and communistic autocracies, is democratic, and we did it."

"A man who takes a wife and blesses the world with several infants cannot go away and leave them on the claim that there was no legal marriage."

"These infant democracies all have political, social and economic problems involving their neighbors that are fraught with the most intense friction. There are no natural boundaries in Europe. Races are not compact; they blend at every border. They need railway communication and sea outlets through their neighbors' territory."

"Many of these states must for the next few years struggle almost for bare bones to maintain their very existence. Every one of them is going to do its best; to protect its own interests, even to the prejudice of its neighbors."

Governments Lack Experience.

"We in America should realize that democracy, as a stable form of government as we know it, is possible only with highly educated populations and a large force of men who are capable of government. Few of the men who compose these governments have had any actual experience at governing and their populations are woefully illiterate.

"They will require a generation of actual national life in peace to develop free education and skill in government."

"Unless these countries have a guiding hand and referee in their quarrels, a court of appeals for their wrongs, this Europe will go back to chaos. If there is such an institution, representing the public opinion of the world, and able to exert its authority, they will grow into stability. We cannot turn back now."

"There is another point which also needs emphasis. World treaties hitherto have always been based on the theory of a balance of power. Stronger races have been set up to dominate the weaker, partly with a view to maintaining stability and to a greater degree with a view to maintaining occupations and positions for the reactionaries of the world."

"The balance of power is born of armies and navies, aristocracies, autocracies, and reactionaries generally, who can find employment and domination in these institutions, and treaties founded on this basis have established stability after each great war for a shorter or longer time, but never more than a generation."

"America came forward with a new idea, and we insisted upon its injection into this peace conference. We claimed that it was possible to set up such a piece of machinery with such authority that the balance of power could be abandoned as a relic of the middle ages. We compelled an entire construction of this treaty and every word and line in it to bend to this idea."

"Outside of the League of Nations the treaty itself has many deficiencies. It represents compromises between many men and between many selfish interests, and these very compromises and deficiencies are multiplied by the many new nations that have entered upon its signature, and the very safety of the treaty itself lies in a court of appeal for the remedy of wrongs in the treaty."

Benefits of the League.

"One thing is certain. There is no body of human beings so wise that a treaty could be made that would not develop injustice and prove to have been wrong in some particulars. As the covenant stands today there is a place at which redress can be found and through which the good-will of the world can be enforced. The very machinery by which the treaty is to be executed, and scores of points yet to be solved, which have been referred to the League of Nations as a method of securing more mature judgment in a less heated atmosphere, justifies the creation of the League."

"To abandon the covenant now means that the treaty itself will collapse."

"It would take the exposure of but a few documents at my hand to prove that I had been the most reluctant of Americans to become involved in this situation in Europe. But having gone in with our eyes open and with a determination to free ourselves and the rest of the world from the dangers that surrounded us, we cannot now pull back from the job. It is no use to hold a great revival and then go away leaving a church for continued services half done."

"We have succeeded in a most extraordinary degree in imposing upon Europe the complete conviction that we are absolutely disinterested. The consequence is that there is scarcely a man, woman or child who can read in Europe that does not look to the United States as the ultimate source from which they must receive assurances and guardianship in the liberties which they have now secured after so many generations of struggle."

"This is not a problem of protecting the big nations, for the few that remain can well look after themselves. What we have done is to set up a score of little democracies, and if the American people could visualize their handwork they would insist with the same determination that they did in 1917 that our government proceed."

ENGLAND TAKES STEPS TO FIGHT PACKERS IN U. S.

Big Five Are Charged With Having Strangle Hold on British Importers

London, Sept. 6.—The British government is taking drastic measures to fight American packers, says the Herald, the labor organ, this morning.

This decision was dictated, according to the newspaper, owing to the "strangle hold" big American packers are exerting on the British provision importers and arrangements virtually have been completed for the establishment of a brokers' pool for those firms whose business has dropped to almost nothing owing to the alleged operations of the packers and who refuse to throw in their lot with the packers.

The Herald quotes an officer of the food ministry as saying "we are trying to make arrangements by which British traders may have a share which formerly was in the hands of the American packers' agents."

TICKETS SELLING FOR THE SPECIAL

Train Leaves Brainerd Sunday Morning at 7 O'clock Sharp With Fans and the Band

MEETING OF FANS TONIGHT

Held at 8 O'clock at Chamber of Commerce, Committees to Report on Ticket Sale, Etc.

Tickets for the baseball special Sunday are selling well. Everywhere fans are interested in the game and their attendance at Lexington park to witness the crucial game between Brainerd and Stillwater promises to be a record one.

Fans Meeting Tonight

The ticket and ribbons committees and all other fans interested are asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock this evening to report on sales, to make needed suggestions and go over the final details. This game and the special and the band and the hundred and one details required to make it a success requires lots of direction. Business Manager I. C. Strout of the Brainerd team is anxious to confer with the committees and the fans tonight.

Line of March in St. Paul

The line of march for the Brainerd parade in St. Paul will be from the Northern Pacific depot to the Ryan hotel. The Ryan hotel has been named official headquarters. It is located at Sixth and Roberts streets.

About Seats at Game

Manager G. W. Tolson of Stillwater has wired Business Manager I. C. Strout that the Brainerd crowd should get its seats behind the visitors' bench. The Stillwater bunch will sit behind the St. Paul bench.

About Returning

Agent G. W. Mosier has informed the Dispatch that the return from St. Paul to Brainerd Sunday night will be made on regular trains. The train leaves St. Paul at 7 o'clock and to accommodate the crowd will probably be run in two sections. Fans should remember the change in time. Returning leave St. Paul 7 P. M. instead of 8 P. M.

Tickets on Special.

The tickets on the special leaving Brainerd 7 o'clock Sunday morning cost $4.50 each. Anybody going to St. Paul should make it a point to ride on the special, buy their ticket at Brainerd and thus help out the committee.

Senator Swanson Leaves.

Senator and Mrs. Hilding A. Swanson, with their automobile duly advertising the game by a regular baseball banner, left this afternoon for St. Paul. Senator Swanson has promised to stir up the senate and get quite a representation at the ball game.

Rep. P. J. Long of Ironton will likewise work to get an attendance from the house.

Publicity.

All week St. Paul papers have given the game big publicity. Many of the pictures and writeups appeared in "bulldog" editions which circulate about St. Paul and vicinity, but do not reach the mail edition. Friday's St. Paul Dispatch, however, came out big for the game and the mail subscribers were proud to see a picture of the outfield and a big story accompanying same.

Publicity sent out from Brainerd was well taken care of by daily papers of Bemidji, St. Cloud, Little Falls, Minneapolis Journal, Stillwater, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Faribault, Mankato, Duluth Herald and Duluth News Tribune, Superior Telegram, Minneapolis Tribune and other papers.

The Minneapolis Journal featured the game in a three-column special head at the top of the page Friday afternoon. The Little Falls Transcript put the story at the top of the front page. The St. Cloud Journal Press gave it prominent mention.

Old Days Remembered.

J. J. Nolan of the postoffice states that in 1894, a quarter century ago, Stillwater and Brainerd had a series for the amateur championship of the state. Two tie games were played at Brainerd, 10 to 10, with one a ten inning game. Frank Howe hurled the first and Billy Phyle the second. Phyle later pitched for the Chicago White Sox. The rubber was played at White Bear with Phyle pitching for Brainerd and Brainerd won 12 to 10. Those were the days when big scores were common.

ARRAIGNMENT TO BE ON SEPT. 16

Nick Christoff, Who Shot Miss Bessie E. Bisted, in Municipal Court Saturday Morning

APPEARED PALE AND THIN

Said if He Had Known What He Was Doing at the Time, He Would Not Have Shot Her

In a court room gloomy because of a leaden sky and rain, Nick Christoff, who attempted to slay Miss Bessie E. Bisted, appeared before Judge Walter F. Wieland of the municipal court at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Christoff was handcuffed to the arms of Deputy Sheriff John Byrne. The prisoner looked pale and thin. Seated next to him was Sheriff Claus A. Theorin. Facing him was County Attorney S. F. Alderman.

The girl had been shot by Christoff on Sunday evening, Aug. 31, the bullet from a Colt automatic passing into her back and piercing the small intestines three times, the stomach walls twice, but striking no bones in its passage.

"It will take a week before the doctors will know her condition as to recovery," said Mr. Alderman.

"Are you willing to have the case continued to Tuesday, Sept. 16?" said Mr. Alderman, addressing Christoff.

"Yes," said the prisoner.

"By that time," said the county attorney, "we will know if she will recover from the wound."

"It's up to you people to do what you think is right," said Christoff. "If I had known what I was doing when I shot, I would not have done it," said Christoff.

Arraignment of the prisoner was then continued to 10 A. M., Tuesday, Sept. 16. Escorted by sheriff and deputy sheriff Christoff was marched back to the county jail.

NEW ERA CONFERENCE

Presbyterian Church Delegates Met at Geneva, Rev. W. J. Lowrie Present

The New Era conference of the Presbyterian church held at Lake Geneva last week was one of the vital conferences held in the interest of that church. The chairmen of the presbyteries of ten synods were the invited guests of the movement. The sessions were held at College Camp and were under the leadership of William H. Foulkes, general secretary of the New Era. Leading men of the church were present and gave addresses and presented plans for the carrying on of the work for the present year.

A series of institutes will be held in the various states shortly and echoes will be given from the larger conference. Rev. W. J. Lowrie was present at the conference and he will be in charge of the institute work in this presbytery.

Right You Are.

Albert Wright who motored from the state fair last night just in time to get the benefit of the rain claims that the "roads" between St. Cloud and Minneapolis are not roads at all, but the poorest sort of an excuse for the same. The recent dry weather has caused the light sand to blow off leaving holes with the hard rock exposed. Other travelers seem to be more or less of the same opinion.—St. Cloud Journal Press.

NOTICE

Attention is called to Ordinance No. 153 of the city of Brainerd, which prohibits riding on the sidewalk with a bicycle. The dangers of such practice are apparent, and prosecutions for violations will follow.

UNIVERSITY LYCEUM EXTENSION COURSE

Seven Numbers to be Given Commencing October 8 and Continuing to March 31

UNDER NO CHURCH AUSPICES

Rev. Eloy G. Carlson has Personally Taken Charge for Benefit of the Community

The University Lyceum Extension Society will give a course in Brainerd the coming fall and winter.

The Midland Lyceum has been in Brainerd the past year and last winter they gave five numbers which were appreciated by the people and large attendances were the rule.

This year the University of Minnesota will be represented with its course and several numbers will be given beginning October 8. It will not be under church auspices but taken up individually by Rev. Eloy G. Carlson for the benefit of the community. In this laudable undertaking he counts on the support of the public. The sale of season's tickets will soon be started.

These are the course numbers: October 8—Minneapolis Operatic Company.

October 24—M. L. Daggy.

November 27—Scheurer Trio.

January 8—Burgderfer.

February 23—Ongawas.

March 11—Jessie Rae Taylor.

March 31—Scheurer Concert Company.

ROLL OF HONOR

Eric Bruhn, Marine who saw service in the world war battles and gained recognition because of his bravery under fire carrying dispatches, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruhn and after a short stay here has gone to Marine barracks at Portsmouth, Va., to finish the last ten months of his four years enlistment term.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

F. H. Simpson of the Citizens State bank has a Republic fabric tire that has rolled up 8,000 miles without a puncture. Mr. Simpson did not wish this published for as soon as that tire got wise to the mention it would blow up as sure as sin.

Coincidences, very remarkable ones, often occur at the Dispatch office. This morning Mrs. George H. Warner telephoned in to have a want ad inserted that she had lost her traveling bag. I. C. Strout was standing near by as the want ad was being taken.

"Why, I found that very bag yesterday," said Mr. Strout.

Mrs. Warner was then told about it and that it was in the dispatcher's office waiting for her to claim it.

All of which goes to show that a Dispatch want ad starts working for you just as soon as you telephone to the Dispatch office.

WOULD CONNECT CHICAGO WITH NEW YORK

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand benefited people gladly testify in the newspapers of their own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. Placed end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 50,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Brainerd sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Brainerd case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

J. C. Higbe, salesman, 402 S. Sixth St., says: "I am a strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills for I have always found them very satisfactory. I have used them on several occasions when suffering from lameness in the back and trouble with the kidney secretions. I have no hesitancy in giving them my endorsement."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Higbe had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sentenced to Death for Ramming U-Boat, but is Again on Liner's Bridge

After being a German prisoner of war for more than two years and at one time under sentence of death, Captain James Blaikie arrived in New York recently in command of the Anchor Line steamship Columbia. While in command of the transport Caledonia he was attacked in the Mediterranean by a submarine, but put up a hard fight and damaged the U-boat by ramming it. The transport was sunk, however, and Blaikie was made prisoner and held until the armistice was signed.

POSTAL PAY RISE PASSED

House Approves $150 a Year Increase for One Year Only

Washington, Sept. 5.—An increase of $150 in the annual wages of all postoffice employees is provided by a bill passed yesterday by the House and sent to the Senate. This increase is retroactive to July 1, last, and affects approximately 250,000 employees.

In addition to providing the flat increase for permanent employees, the bill gives an increase from 40 to 60 cents an hour for temporary and auxiliary employees. Both increases which are for one year, will cost the government $40,000,000.

THEIR GLORY GONE

Helgoland to Join Louisbourg as a Memory.

Famous French Fortress in Canada Has Long Been Demolished and Soon the German Stronghold Is to Be Razed.

Announcement that the German forts on the island of Helgoland are to be demolished recalls the similar fate of a glorious landmark on Canadian soil. This is Louisbourg, Nova Scotia, once the pride of New France, and now a pile of ruins, with but a faint echo of its original splendor.

Louisbourg was the remnant of French power on the Atlantic Coast when the treaty of Utrecht was signed in 1713, reducing the fortunes of Louis XIV to a low ebb. From 1720 to 1760 it led a precarious but spectacular existence, its magnificence as a defense guaranteed by the expenditure of millions of dollars by the French government, though millions were stolen and wasted by dishonest officials and unhappy officers, whose only ambition was to get rich and go home.

The fortress was imposing, despite the thievery and mismanagement, and it required a seven weeks' siege by Colonel Pepperell and his New Englanders in 1745 to take it from the French.

By one of those diplomatic incidents too plentiful in the history of the new world, Louisbourg was handed back to France in 1748 by the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle. The New Englanders were furious, but ten years later the British army and navy, with such rising strategists as Amherst and Wolfe taking part, again laid siege by land and sea, and in another campaign of seven weeks recaptured the stronghold.

The days of the great fortress were now numbered. The home of discontent, the abode of smugglers, the den of thieving officialdom received its

Smith Belittles Great Carpenter

BY DON E. CHAMBERLAIN.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
London (By Mail)—Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight champion and world's championship aspirant, has got to hurry up if he wants to beat Jack Dempsey, the American, or else he will find himself in the discard.

This was told the United Press today by Carpentier's latest victim, Dick Smith, former light heavyweight champion of Great Britain.

Smith was knocked out by the French man in the eighth round in their recent fight at Paris, but despite this, the Britisher says Carpentier is "slipping" and that if he doesn't hurry up he will be a "has-been."

"Carpentier has one punch—an uppercut. But I don't think it is anything to get scared about. I felt it several times and honestly believe that if he hadn't fouled me twice below the belt in the seventh round, I would have beaten him," said Smith.

"He has slowed up considerably on his footwork but is still able to flash his hands. But up to the time he knocked me out his punches didn't have any great force. I believe Joe Beckett, the British heavyweight champion, will stand up to him for 20 rounds. At the same time I think Carpentier will stay the limit and get the decision. His boxing ability will win for him. However, it is an even money bet as to who will win. Beckett can knock him out, but whether he would is guess work. Beckett is a very dangerous man. I beat him once and think I can repeat.

"In my fight with Carpentier I nearly won twice with a one-two punch."

death warrant in 1760 at the hand of George II and Pitt in London. So well was the warrant executed that for months sailors, sappers and miners worked until they laid Louisbourg level with the dust.

And there it remains. Memorials recording its history raise their modest heads above the chaos of stones and mortar. The site on a point three miles from the railway and the town of the same name is remote and forbidding. Should the visitor follow the shore road by the lonely Atlantic in summer he will hear tinkling sheep bells from the pasture where once stood the French town, now completely obliterated. The great area of the ruins of the fort gives some hint of the vain preparation to hold a last grip against the advancing British and Colonial.

What will be the thoughts of the tourist as he drops by airplane on Helgoland a century hence, witnesses the ruins of the fort, and contemplates the futile ambitions of a race that drew the sword and fought a losing battle for world domination?

Married by Order.

A document suggesting that the holders of certain lands in Scotland are bound under heavy monetary penalties to marry at the royal pleasure has been brought to light during a Scottish appeal case in the house of lords. The document is said to have been prepared by the king and queen of Scotland in 1550, and it refers to a tenure known as a "ward." The heir or possessors of land held in this manner cannot obtain possession until they are twenty-one years of age if males and fourteen years of age if females. If such heirs on taking possession are not married they are bound to marry at the pleasure and will of the king with persons of good reputation and similar rank. The penalty payable to the king for refusing such a proposed marriage is double the pecuniary benefit of the marriage. "Which marriage," adds the order, "is esteemed much too dear in this country and almost at the value of the lands."

Famed Rest of Noted Men.

The Diamond bar, famous for nearly 50 years as a part of the old Auzerals house, of San Jose, Cal., is being fitted up for a grocery store. The Auzerals house, on West Santa Clara street, housed five presidents of the United States and was for a time the abode of a king. It was built in 1863, according to John E. Auzerals of San Jose, and the barroom was the meeting place for many of the men whose names have been written into the history of California.

President Grant was entertained at a banquet in the Auzerals house in 1879. The following spring King Kalakaua of Hawaii was a guest, and in September of the same year President Hayes delivered an address from the balcony. President Harrison was a guest in 1891 and both McKinley and Roosevelt visited the famous old hotel on their tours of the United States.

Night Fly Fishing.

The question as to whether or not trout will rise to flies by moonlight is one that has long been discussed in the Adirondacks. A number of Adirondack guides have insisted that they have taken good catches of trout by moonlight fly fishing. Others of the woods brethren, however, have merely smiled when one speaks of snaring the speckled ones under the light of the June moon.

Some fishermen claim to have taken them that way, while others say it is merely a fish story. Apparently about the only way one can prove it to his own satisfaction is to go some moonlight night to waters where they know trout are and try it for themselves.

There is, however, no doubt regarding brown trout taking flies at night, at least not in some waters. Arthur Munsil Malone recently secured seven fine brown trout from Salmon river, whose waters were bathed in moonlight at the time.—Saranac Lake Daily Item.

Honor for the Cowbell.

Never again can the cowbell be looked upon as something merely bucolic, commonplace and utilitarian, connoting at best for the city man memories of idling away a summer holiday in the country. What the cowbell has meant to the country boy in early rising to do stable chores, and tedious hunting through swampy bottom lands for the heifer who appears to have no homing instinct it is rather difficult to express politely. But now the despised cowbell has achieved its apotheosis, for thanks to the ingenuity of a California composer, a set of them, "covering a chromatic range of an octave and a half," was used in the symphonic music of this year's Bohemian Grove play. This, perhaps, in some small degree makes up for the fearful contemporary misuse of an honorable if lowly instrument by jazz bands.

K. of C. Meet at Camp Dix

(By United Press)
New York, Sept. 6—Marshall Habcock, who won the 220-yard dash at the Inter-Allied games of the A. E. F. in Pershing Stadium, France, was to be one of the star contenders in the events today at the Olympic Meet of the Knights of Columbus, at Camp Dix, N. J. The military carnival was open only to former service men as was the famous international gatherings held at Stockholm, Sweden.

Frank Wandle, the Knights of Columbus secretary, is in charge of the Olympic. The chief air event scheduled was a flight by Lieut. Donaldson and Stewart from the grounds to Philadelphia and return for an air record.

Other important entries were those of George Hooley, Irvington, N. J., champion amateur runner, who was signed up for the marathon, from the Camp to the State house at Trenton, and Lieut. Russell H. Anderson, who was listed for ten events.

Historic Tree Now Only a Memory.

The "tree in the road" a mile and a half west of Hartford, Mich., has been cut down to clear the way for a new concrete road. This maple tree, supposed to be more than a hundred years old, was the most famous and most cherished landmark of the region. Standing in the middle of the road on the crest of a hill, it had from the time of the oldest inhabitant been used as a point from which all distances were measured.

In giving directions a place was always said to be a certain distance "this side of the tree in the road" or a certain distance "beyond the tree in the road." With the advance of civilization, however, the natives have reluctantly concluded that the tree can be dispensed with, since the only distance people ask about now is the distance between gasoline tanks.—Exchange.

Education in China.

China is still in the transition period in education. The modern school has not entirely replaced the ancient methods, with large emphasis on the classics, verbal memorizing and the writing of the essay. The conception of the need of practical education is on the increase. The minister of agriculture in Peking said when calling men for the forestry division, "I want men who can grow trees, not essays."

Weights a Locomotive Hauls.

"How much more weight does the average passenger locomotive have to haul than in the days before the advent of the steel car?" I asked an expert Philadelphia locomotive builder.

"The old wooden passenger car weighed 40,000 to 60,000 pounds," he answered.

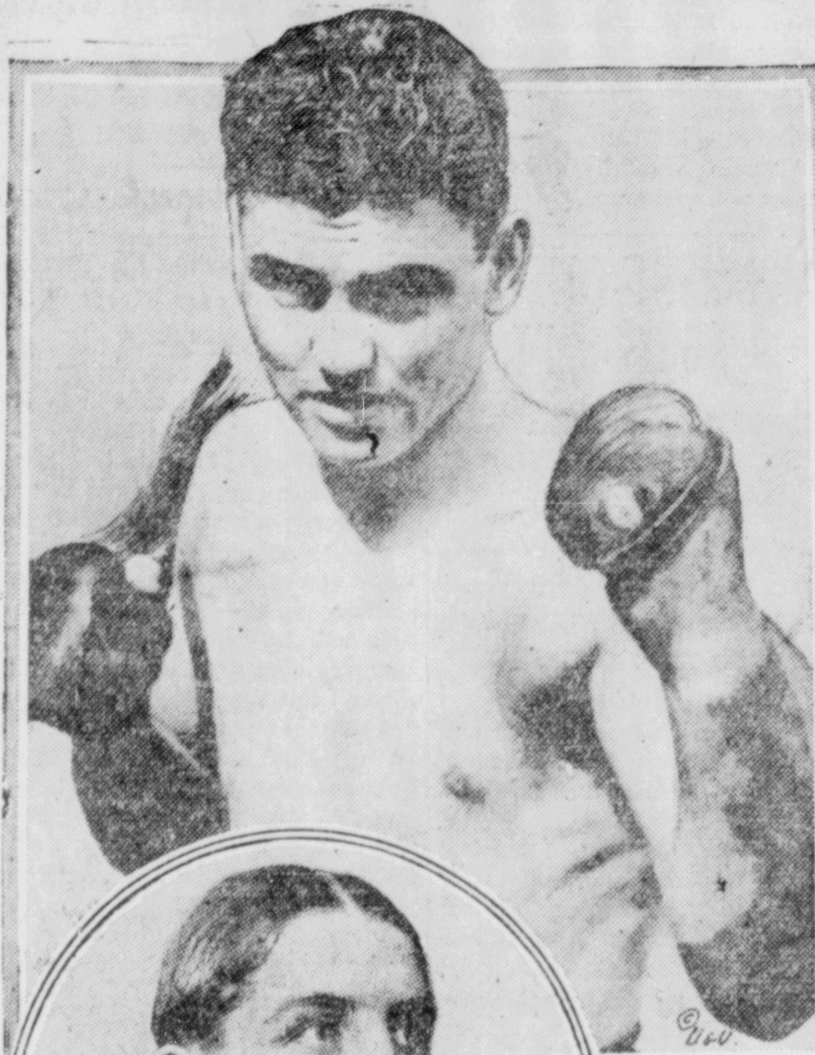

"The steel suburban car weighs 90,000 pounds."

"The larger steel car weighs 110,000 pounds."

"A parlor car weighs 115,000 pounds and the sleeping car 140,000."

"As for the locomotive itself, the heavy Pacific type for passenger traffic weighs 280,000 to 300,000 pounds. The freight locomotives, of course, go far beyond this figure, to more than 500,000 pounds."—Philadelphia Ledger.

World's Champion and France's Best Man Who May Battle Abroad for $175,000 Purse

According to an announcement made by Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion has received an offer from the manager of Georges Carpentier, the French champion, to meet Carpentier in a bout in England for a purse of $175,000. If Dempsey agrees to the arrangements, Kearns believes the bout will be staged at the National Sporting Club in London. The largest purse ever offered before in the history of the ring was $127,500, for which Dempsey and Willard fought at Toledo on July 4th. Willard received $100,000 and Dempsey $27,500.

For Hoarseness.

Hoarseness can be relieved by mixing one teaspoonful of glycerin to the well-beaten white of an egg, the juice of one lemon and enough sugar to make it palatable.

Were All There.

"It wasn't fair to mark me down on that word in spelling," said Jane as she came in from school. "I had all its letters in but I didn't arrange them right."

Professor H. Strauss, M. D., of the Royal Charity Hospital, says, "The cause for an attack of gout, rheumatism, lumbago, is supplied by the increase of uric acid in the blood serum, the result of various causes, the most frequent of which is renal. Before an attack, one suffers sometimes from headache, neuralgia, twinges of pain here and there."

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when the back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; when you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy nervous spells, acid stomach; or you have rheumatic pains or lumbago, gout, sciatica when the weather is bad, do not neglect the warning, but try simple means. Take six or eight glasses of water during the day, then obtain at your nearest drug store 'An-uric' (anti-uric acid).

This is the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. "An-uric" is an antidote for this uric acid poisoning and dissolves uric acid in the body much as hot coffee dissolves sugar. "Anuric" will penetrate into the joints and muscles, and dissolve the poisonous accumulations. It will stamp out toxins. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

North East West South

Supposing that, beginning tomorrow, all the newspapers are discontinued. What a furore the public would make. "News! News! We must have news or we will be no better off than the ancients." "All right, suppose we give them news but cut out the advertisement."

Then we would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports, the activities of the police and criminals add little or nothing to the real comfort and happiness of this greatest age in the world's history.

What geni are they that have crowded the last fifty years with so much of advantage of human? They are legion in number, but not least among them is Advertising.

Our day is the greatest time the world has seen because we have more to be happy with, better things, greater variety greater comforts gathered together from the North, East, West and South for our choosing and selection. Look about you. This is the day of better food, better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better business. And advertising is the instrument that makes these better things possible.

Advertising is the NEWS of all the looms, of all the furnaces, of all the laboratories, of all the shops, of all the stores, of all the world and all working for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once cost a king's ransom are yours at little prices. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, producer against producer, for your benefit, forcing out the best there is in everything and telling the world about it.

Read advertising. Keep abreast of today. Advertising furnishes you with facts and opportunities that you would otherwise never know.
